Over the last 35 years I have worked with adults, teens and children living through many difficult circumstances. I offer a safe and nurturing place to explore situations or problems that are causing you distress. Through therapy, you can connect with your inner strengths, identify your needs and priorities and take steps to greater peace and satisfaction. Many of my clients address depression, anxiety, life changes, unresolved issues of the past, relationships and trauma. Some people use therapy not to problem solve but to find ways to have more joy, greater well-being or to gain a clear direction towards the future.

When working with children, I utilize child centered play therapy techniques. While adults are comfortable communicating verbally, children use the language of play to express the themes in their lives. Through play, children are able to communicate about issues that are troubling them and can learn ways to share feelings and thoughts.

I offer traditional talk therapy techniques and also for those who are interested, LifeForce Yoga® for Depression and Anxiety, Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction, EMDR Therapy and sandtray therapy. You do not need to be at any particular level of fitness for the LifeForce Yoga as it can be done on the floor or a chair.

Multi-systemic Therapy Treatment Program

Multi-systemic Therapy (MST) is an intensive family and community based treatment service that addresses multiple aspects of serious behavior in adolescents.

MST interventions address the many factors that are known to contribute to delinquency where the youth lives, works and plays. Therapists work with parents/caregivers to impact and provide support in school, youth, peer, and community settings for 4-6 months. Contact can be daily at the outset, with families receiving 2-3 sessions per week on average. Therapist are available around the clock for emergencies and support.

These family interventions promote positive family relationships and development of skills to impact adolescents' risky and acting-out behaviors as well as enhance the parent's capacity to monitor and manage the adolescent.

Everyone deserves the chance to succeed and, through the support of our community, Via is able to provide opportunities for children and adults with disabilities living in the Lehigh Valley.

Early Intervention: Via provides Speech, Physical and Occupational Therapies, as well as Special Instruction for children from birth through the first three years, addressing individual disabilities and delays, both in home and in care settings. We respect and build on the family's strengths, values, diversity and competencies. Caregivers are included in the teaching process so therapy can continue across the child's daily routines.

Early Literacy Promise Project (Reading Together at Home): Via's Reading Specialists work together with children and families to establish literacy skills and a love of reading. This early literacy program is free to families who reside in the city of Allentown and is provided in a family's own home, funded in part by the United Way.

Lehigh Children's Academy: Lehigh Children's Academy provides quality care and education for children ages six weeks through Kindergarten, and before and after care for school ages through 12 years. We focus on creating learning opportunities through educational and recreational experiences that promote all areas of a child's growth and development. We work collaboratively with families every step of the way, from first feedings, to the first day of school and beyond. In our inclusive setting, we provide a developmentally appropriate educational environment for every young child that accounts for each individual's unique abilities and potential in an accepting, respectful climate.

Teen Experience: Held during summer and winter break, Teen Experience includes job shadowing, career counseling, volunteering, and recreational and team-building activities. With the help of Via staff, teens develop life skills to plan their futures and gain independence upon graduation.

Student Work Experience: High school students participate in paid work-based learning experiences at local businesses. Via focuses on the individual student, tailoring the paid internship experience to their career goals.

School-to-Work Transition Services: Via works with students, in partnership with their school districts and the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, to create an employment plan and explore careers of interest. Pre- Employment Transition Services are also available.

Community Employment: Via helps adults with disabilities work in integrated, competitive employment settings within their community, while providing ongoing support to ensure job stability.

ViaWorks Small Group Employment: ViaWorks helps people with disabilities enter the work force, be a part of the community and earn a paycheck. ViaWorks teams work on site at local companies, providing contract services for local employers. This service teaches job skills in a supportive, hands-on environment.

Via Business & Industrial Services: For over 56 years, Via has specialized in contract packaging and assembly work, providing consistent high-quality work for businesses. Staff help provide a safe and productive environment for individuals to enhance skills and gain work experience.

Community Connections: Via connects people to their community through volunteer, recreational, social and educational activities. Participants take an active role in planning their schedules and developing goals and objectives for each activity. Staff educate participants on a variety of life skills, such as the use of public transportation, understanding housing options, and the importance of money management.

Autism Services: Via provides adults on the autism spectrum with resources to connect with each other and community resources to explore their talents and potential. Vocational, educational and recreational services are available.

Behavioral Supports: Behavioral Support Services promote the growth, development, and independence of individuals with disabilities who experience behavior challenges. Our Masters-level staff work with a person's natural support system and caregivers to develop a behavioral support plan.

Creative Expressions - Adult Training

Services: This service supports growth through artistic self-expression. Individuals engage their local community through visits to artist studios, museums, galleries, schools and cultural events. Over the last 35 years I have worked with adults, teens and children living through many difficult circumstances. I offer a safe and nurturing place to explore situations or problems that are causing you distress. Through therapy, you can connect with your inner strengths, identify your needs and priorities and take steps to greater peace and satisfaction. Many of my clients address depression, anxiety, life changes, unresolved issues of the past, relationships and trauma. Some people use therapy not to problem solve but to find ways to have more joy, greater well-being or to gain a clear direction towards the future.

When working with children, I utilize child centered play therapy techniques. While adults are comfortable communicating verbally, children use the language of play to express the themes in their lives. Through play, children are able to communicate about issues that are troubling them and can learn ways to share feelings and thoughts.

I offer traditional talk therapy techniques and also for those who are interested, LifeForce Yoga® for Depression and Anxiety, Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction, EMDR Therapy and sandtray therapy. You do not need to be at any particular level of fitness for the LifeForce Yoga as it can be done on the floor or a chair.

Multi-systemic Therapy Treatment Program

Multi-systemic Therapy (MST) is an intensive family and community based treatment service that addresses multiple aspects of serious behavior in adolescents.

The multi-systemic approach views an individual's behavior as being influenced by the system around them- family, peers, school, neighborhood, as well as by the individual's thoughts and feelings about that system.

MST interventions address the many factors that are known to contribute to delinquency where the youth lives, works and plays. Therapists work with parents/caregivers to impact and provide support in school, youth, peer, and community settings for 4-6 months. Contact can be daily at the outset, with families receiving 2-3 sessions per week on average. Therapist are available around the clock for emergencies and support. These family interventions promote positive family relationships and development of skills to impact adolescents' risky and acting-out behaviors as well as enhance the parent's capacity to monitor and manage the adolescent.

Pennsylvania's Education for Children and Youth Experiencing Homelessness Program Regional Sites

The PA Education for Children and Youth Experiencing Homelessness (ECYEH) Program in is an initiative of the Pennsylvania Department of Education. ECYEH is based on the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act which ensures that homeless children and youth have access to a free, appropriate, public education. We work to eliminate barriers to education, educate the community about the nature of homelessness, and provide support to schools, families, and communities.

Eight regional sites are in operation, with the state coordinator located in Harrisburg. If you have any general questions or questions about specific situations to help students experiencing homelessness, please contact any of the coordinators listed below.

The Medical Assistance Program (Access) is now a managed care system called "HealthChoices." To apply for Medical Assistance (Access) for yourself and/or your family, you must visit or call the County Assistance Office (Welfare Office).

There are three health managed care MA groups you can choose from, based on your health needs. (And also some groups, especially for those with addiction or mental health needs). You can then pick one to have as your health insurance group; you can change groups if you decide another is better. Anyone found eligible for Medical Assistance who has not chosen a group will be placed in a group (but you can still switch later). For more information about the different health choices groups, you can call 610-437-6237 in Lehigh County or 610-923-5214 in Northampton County.

The Early Intervention (EI) Program of the Carbon Lehigh Intermediate Unit #21 (CLIU #21) is a federal and state public special education service provided to children ages three to five years of age who are experiencing a delay in their development. These children are evaluated and found to be eligible for special education services under the guidelines of the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) regulations. The CLIU #21 EI Program, operates under the direction of the PA Office of Child Development and Early Learning (OCDEL).

Early Intervention conducts child find activities to assist in identifying children in need of such services. Staff are made aware of a child who may be eligible for special education EI services through a referral from a person who has regular contact with the child - either a parent, relative, daycare or preschool teacher, physician, or other professional. Once a child is referred a screening occurs. Results of the screening determine the need for, and type of, evaluation that a child may require. If a child is determined to be eligible as a result of the evaluation, he or she will receive services that are both free and appropriate.

Via of the Lehigh Valley is a nonprofit agency that provides children and adults with developmental and intellectual disabilities living in Lehigh, Northampton, Carbon, Monroe, Bucks, and Berks counties. These services include vocational exploration, employment, educational activities, volunteer and recreational opportunities for teens and adults, and early intervention therapies and inclusive education for young children.

Early Intervention: Via provides Speech, Physical and Occupational Therapies, as well as Special Instruction for children from birth through the first three years, addressing individual disabilities and delays, both in-home and in care settings. We respect and build on the family's strengths, values, diversity and competencies. Caregivers are included in the teaching process so therapy can continue across the child's daily routines.

Lehigh Children's Academy: Lehigh Children's Academy provides quality care and education for children ages six weeks through Kindergarten, and before- and after-care for school ages through 12 years. We focus on creating learning opportunities through educational and recreational experiences that promote all areas of a child's growth and development. We work collaboratively with families every step of the way, from first feedings, to the first day of school and beyond. In our inclusive setting, we provide a developmentally appropriate educational environment for every young child that accounts for each individual's unique abilities and potential in an accepting, respectful climate.

Teen Experience: Held during summer and winter break, Teen Experience includes job shadowing, career counseling, volunteering, and recreational and team-building activities. With the help of Via staff, teens develop life skills to plan their futures and gain independence upon graduation while having fun during school breaks.

School-to-Work Transition Services: Via works with students, in partnership with their school districts and the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, to create an employment plan and explore careers of interest. Pre- Employment Transition Services are also available under this service.

Community Employment: Via helps adults with disabilities work in integrated, competitive employment settings within their community, while providing ongoing support to ensure job stability.

ViaWorks Small Group Employment: ViaWorks helps people with disabilities enter the work force, be a part of the community and earn a paycheck. ViaWorks teams work on site at local companies, providing contract services for local employers. This service teaches job skills in a supportive, hands-on environment.

Via Business & Industrial Services: For almost 60 years, Via has specialized in contract packaging and assembly work, providing consistent high-quality work for businesses. Staff help provide a safe and productive environment for individuals to enhance skills and gain work experience.

Community Connections: Via connects people to their community through volunteer, recreational, social, and educational activities. Participants take an active role in planning their schedules and developing goals and objectives for each activity. Staff educate participants on a variety of life skills, such as the use of public transportation, understanding housing options, and the importance of money management.

Autism Services: Via provides adults on the autism spectrum with resources to connect with each other and community resources to explore their talents and potential. Vocational, educational, and recreational services are available.

Behavioral Supports: Behavioral Support Services promote the growth, development, and independence of individuals with disabilities who experience behavior challenges. Our Masters-level staff work with a person's natural support system and caregivers to develop a behavioral support plan.

Creative Expressions - Adult Training Services: This service supports growth through artistic self-expression. Individuals engage their local community through visits to artist studios, museums, galleries, schools and cultural events. While at our facility, we focus on art projects, wellness, culinary skills and working to achieve independence and improve self-awareness
